L. W. Bonney, for a number of years successfully engaged in gold

THE BORDER VIDETTE takes pleasure in announcing the marriage of Dr. J.
L. Nicholson and Mrs. A. L. Mendivil.
The wedding which took place on Sunday evening, the 18th of November, was strictly private, only a few of the most intimate friends of the high contracting parties being present. We understand that the ceremony performed by Judge Gildea was merely to render valid a marriage consummated some time previous.
The numerous friends of Dr. and Mrs.
Nicholson will join with us in wishing them long life, happiness and prosperity.

Captain Jose Cos, manager of the Mexican Forwarding & Commission Company, has returned to the city, after a prolonged absence in Sonora on railway business, connected with the Cananea-Limuris branch of the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific railway, the concession for which has recently been granted the Southern Pacific. Captain Cos represents the Mexican government end of the new road which, according to the concession, must be completed within eight-teen months, from the time the concession is signed by the contracting parties.

Thursday and yesterday Mr. J. T.
Nye was a guest at the Montezuma hotel, his name appearing on the register from Minas Prietas, Sonora, at which place his company are prospecting for mines with diamond drills. Mr.
Nye has resided in Mexico several years, during which time he has operated in several of the interior states. He was detained here yesterday on account of the strike of locomotive engineers of the Sonora railway, which went into effect Thursday when all the engineers refused to pull a throttle until Engineer Jess Ritz was released from the Hermosillo jail, where he has been several days charged with having run over a man at that place.

Number 10 this morning brought in from Los Angeles several prominent Mexican neighbors, says Wednesday's Tucson Citizen. Among them were:
Ignacio Pesqueira, son of the late General Pesqueira, ex-Governor of the state of Sonora, and Francisco Ochoa, a prominent merchant and mine owner of Ures, once the capital of Sonora.
Mr. Ochoa is accompanied by his wife and daughter. These gentlemen passed through Tucson some two months ago en route to Los Angeles for recreation, but an important mining deal has called Mr. Ochoa home. Mrs.
Ben Heney, who is a cousin of Mrs.
Ochoa, entertained the party this morning. They left on the afternoon train for Hermosillo.

The grand Thanksgiving ball, given Thursday night under the auspices of the ladies of the Nogales, Arizona Catholic church, was beyond a doubt the most successful affair of its kind, both socially and financially, ever given in Nogales. The ladies, God bless 'em, had prepared to feed a hundred, and then some, but before the night was over, they were called upon to care for multitudes, which partook of the "loaves and fishes," and everybody was made welcome, and everybody had a fine time tripping the light fantastic until early Thanksgiving morning, when all went home happy.
The thanks of the community are due the ladies of the Catholic church and all who aided in making the dance a success.

W. S. Cranz, President of the Zambona Development Company, is a guest in the city from Los Angeles, where Mrs. Cranz and Miss Emma are spending the winter months. Mr.
Cranz is on his way to Minas Nuevas, a short distance from Alamos, where his great silver-copper bonanza mine is located, and to which place the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific railroad, is building as fast as men and money can do the work. He reports operations at the Zambona mine and mill progressing very satisfactory under the superintendency of Amos J.
Yaeger. Mr. Cranz is accompanied by Don Jose Moraga, of San Diego, an old friend and one of his partners in the great San Juan silver mine down in Lower California, which produced millions for the lucky owners, several years ago.

Mr. O. H. Buffett, formerly a resident of Nogales, Arizona, when in the employ of Captain L. W. Mix, as private secretary, was a stop-over visitor in Nogales yesterday on his way to Altar, Sonora. Mr. Buffett had been to Tucson to consult with Col. Epes Randolph, in whose interest he has been working for some time past. He left on yesterday's delayed southbound train, expecting to reach Altar this evening, going overland by private conveyance from Santa Ana.

Mr. A. M. Conard, president and general manager of the Sonora Copper Company, the great copper holdings of which are three and one-half miles east of the Sonora railway, twelve miles southeast of Llano, Sonora, in the Magdalena district, has returned from Kansas City, Mo., where he had been on business for his big company, and is busy as a cranberry merchant, purchasing camp and mine supplies which will at once be shipped to the company's properties where a large force of men will in the near future be put to work exploring and developing the great ore bodies known to exist there. Those who get in on the "ground floor" will make no mistake, for all who have seen the property of the Sonora Copper Company agree as to their extent and richness in "red metal." Mr. Conard will give his personal, undivided attention to the business of making a great dividend-paying mine for his company which is composed of some of the solid financial men of Kansas City.

Waking Up.

The business men of Nogales, Arizona and Nogales, Sonora, are waking up, and have started to do some tall bustling to have the Cananea branch of the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific railroad, built into Nogales instead of to Limuris, as provided in a concession recently granted by the Mexican government. While it is just a little late the wide awake business men of the line cities, have hopes of accomplishing things by getting busy even at this late hour, and a committee headed by P.
Sandoval, the Nogales, Sonora banker, is now at Hermosillo consulting with the powers that be, and will later go to the City of Mexico to place the matter before President Diaz.

Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Board of Trade in this city, at which a number of Nogales, Sonora's prominent business men were present, the proposition was discussed pro and con, and Messrs. P. Sandoval and B.
Schwab, of Nogales, Sonora, agreed to go to Hermosillo to ask the aid of Governor Yabala and General Torres in the matter, the Board of Trade, through President E. Titcomb, agreeing to do all in its power, morally and financially to assist in bringing the new railroad to Nogales, Sonora.

Jess Ritz Home.

Jess Ritz, the locomotive engineer of the engine, which is said to have run over and killed a man at Hermosillo several days ago, is back from the capital city where he had been confined in jail pending an investigation. On account of his arrest and confinement, the engineers of the Sonora road refused to work and no train went south Thursday night, and yesterday morn-ing's train from Guaymas did not arrive until late last evening. However, at this writing matters have been adjusted and things are again running smooth, and everybody is happy. Mr.
Ritz will appear at Hermosillo when wanted, and the powers that be, will possibly act with more deliberation in future, provided they want to enjoy the advantages and conveniences incidental to a regular train service into the capital city. They may have power to throw engineers in jail, but they certainly can't make engineers run engines. Not yet.

Funeral Services.

The services over the remains of the late E. W. Amsden, at St. Andrew's Episcopal church last Saturday afternoon, were attended by hundreds of friends of the deceased, who was universally loved and respected.

The remains were escorted from Marsh's undertaking parlors to the church by the Nogales Concert Band, the Mandolin Club, members of the legal bar, and hundreds of citizens who attended to do honor to the departed.

The band, of which deceased was the organizer and an active member, on the way to the church played a beautiful march, composed the day before by Professor Baldaras and dedicated to E. W. Amsden.

Rev. Davis, of St. Andrew's conducted the beautiful and impressive funeral service and the music was furnished by the St. Andrew's choir, Prof. Andrews, organist. The little church on the corner was filled to the doors, hundreds being unable to gain admittance.

After the ceremony the procession again formed and headed by the band, proceeded to Marsh's undertaking parlors, from where the body was shipped to Armond, Florida, the home of deceased's parents, to which place they were accompanied by Dr.
A. A. Doherty, interment being this afternoon, according to a telegram received this morning by Judge W. A.
O'Connor.
